

Talisker Signs Exploration Agreement with Bridge River Indian Band for the Bralorne Gold Project

TORONTO, Sept. 14, 2020 /CNW/ - Talisker Resources Ltd. ("Talisker" or the "Company") (CSE: TSK) (OTCQX: TSKFF) and Bridge River Indian Band ("Xwísten") are pleased to jointly announce the signing of an exploration agreement (the "Agreement") for the Bralorne Gold Project. Talisker acquired the Bralorne Gold Project in December 2019 and has been undertaking an exploration evaluation and drilling program. The Bralorne mine complex was one of the highest grade and longest producing gold mines in British Columbia, operating for over 50 years.

Terry Harbort, President and CEO of Talisker stated, "Talisker is proud of its commitment to our Indigenous Engagement policy and the relationships that we have developed with the surrounding Indigenous communities. We look forward to developing our relationship with Xwísten into a strong partnership."

Chief Susan James also expressed, "We are pleased with Talisker's commitment to work with us and build a lasting relationship going forward. This Agreement has been founded on communications, trust and responsible development with our voice and interests being taken into consideration throughout the growth of the project."

About Xwísten

Xwísten is part of the St'át'imc Nation, whose territories extend from Pavilion in the northeast to Skookumchuck and Port Douglas in the south. The traditional territory of Xwísten includes the entire watersheds of the Yalakom and Bridge Rivers between Mission Ridge on one side and the Blackhills Creek and along Camelsfoot Range on the other. Currently, Xwísten has 460 registered members led by one Chief and four Councillors who oversee Xwísten's area of interest on behalf of their community."
